TITLE: Cultural Arts Activities for August 2019

Concert on the Green: On Sunday, August 25, over 7,000 guests attended the Concert on the Green, featuring Queen Nation, a well-known Queen tribute act.

"Newport Beach: Then and Now": Sherman Library, in conjunction with the Newport Beach City Arts Commission, presents "Newport Beach: Then and Now", a special photographic exhibition from the archives of Sherman Library, on display at the Newport Beach Central Library gallery.

Sherman Library, located in Corona del Mar, is a historical research library specializing in the history of the Pacific Southwest – including southern California, Arizona, northern Mexico and adjoining areas. The Library’s collections document the development of the region through books, archival collections, photographs, maps, aerial photographs, and newspapers.

Sherman Library Director Paul Wormser has opened a part of its significant collection of historical local photography for a special exhibition at the Newport Beach Public Library. Director Wormser, giving viewers a more in-depth glimpse of our local history, has annotated each curated image.

The exhibition will be on display during library operating hours, September 9 through November 1, 2019.
